

Which path do you wish to take?

- Rediscover dreams/ interests you have put aside
- Retain your desire for new experiences in life
- Dare to choose how and with whom you wish to spend your time
- Remain or become physically and mentally active
- Let go of earlier commitments/interests/ preconceived ideas
- Integrate your new choices and directions with those nearest to you

You will carry out your own steps, but may share your insights with other group members

There is really no set age when one can face a new phase in life!

If you have a permanent, close relationship with someone, however, we recommend that you take part together.
